Schaeffer learned from a citizen that a man was prving open the cover of the oal chute leading into the cellar of Miss Damon's home, one of the handsomest residences in Park avenue. This was shortly before 5 o'clock. With Police-man Carberry of the East Thirty-fifth street station Schaeffer went to the house and found the coal chute had been broken open.

The house then was aroused. Miss Damon was positive there was no burglar in her house. So were her servants who sleep on the fourth floor. Schaeffer, however, insisted on making a search.

Nothing suspicious was found until the dining room was reached. There everything was in disorder. Going to the servants' dining room in the basement, Schaeffer found that a burglar had been bundling up valuables proparatory to carrying them off.

Found Tracks in Snow. The burglar evidently had taken fright on the arrival of the police. He broke through a rear door and his tracks in the snow showed that he had climbed over a rear fence, ten feet dence of M. S. Paton, Nos. 102-104 East Thirty-fifth street.

could not get over the fence, but, leaving Carberry on watch, he went around and aroused the Paton household. The butler, William Frazer, answered his ring at the door bell and then came Mr. Paton.

"There are no burglars in my house," No, but there's one in your rear yard or in one of the outhouses," said the Neighbors Aroused.

By this time half a dozen residences were lighting up, and the neighborhood was becoming excited. A number of men joined Schaeffer and Mr. Paton when they started for the rear yard.

Following the footprints in the snow, Schaffer traced the man to the wash boars a detached building to house, a detached building in the rear of the yard. The door to the wash house had been pulled off its hinges. Schaeffer examined the Schaeffer examined the place, but found nothing and was about to leave when he saw a pile of soiled clothing move. The policeman threw the clothe aside, and the next instant he was i the clutches of a giant negro, who tried to strangle bim. Policeman and negro fought through the door into the yard. First one was down, then the other. Then Schaeffer began swinging his night stick. He beat the negro over the head until the latter sank in a heap. Wore Fur-Lined Coat.

The negro wore a magnificent fur-lined overcoat that must have cost several hundred dollars and a new-suit of expensive clothes, but he was minus underwear or socks. When revived he was taken to the East Thirty-fifth street atation.

There he said he was William Collins, twenty-eight, a waiter, of No. 215 West Twenty-ninth street. He declared he had been to the Damon house to call on a negro servant.

"But I haven't any negro servants in my house," Miss Damon told the police.
Collins was charged with unlawful entry. The charge is expected to be changed to burglary to-day.'
Collins was later arraigned before Magistrate Herrman in the Vorkville Court. There he said his name was George Glenn and that he was a weiter. He gave No. 215 West Twenty-mint; street as his address. Ball was fixed at $1,500 for further examination to-morrow.

Big Money-Saving

Quick selling ALWAYS means price-reductions—big ones. Sale figures HAVE to be cut. The consequence is that the public hastens to buy, for the excellent reason that thus it SAVES A LOT OF MONEY!

This fact explains the tremendous success of our remarkable sale-now getting well started upon its second weekin these eleven big departments:

KITCHEN SUPPLIES Furniture, Carpets, LAMPS Rugs, Linoleums, Oilcloths, China, Glassware, Lamps, Pictures, Upholsteries, Kitchen Supplies

A great re-arrangement is going on. The Siegel Cooper | Co. and Greenhut & Co. are shortly to consolidate. The new name will be Greenhut-Siegel Cooper Co.

When the amalgamation takes place, the present Greenhut building will be found devoted EXCLUSIVELY to merchandise along home-outfitting lines. THIS building (that is, the Siegel Cooper Co. or MAIN building) will contain ONLY dry goods, readyto-wear apparel (for men, women and children) and food products. It was not considered good judgment for us to MOVE our immense stocks of home outfittings to the Greenhut building, for TWO big reasons: First, we prefer to open, there, with entirely NEW stocks; second, the transfer of so tremendous a volume of merchandise would mean so much LABOR, so much DAMAGE and so great an INTERRUPTION TO BUSINESS that it was simply not to be thought of. Therefore there was but one thing to do-to SELL AT ONCE EVERY PARTICLE of the immense Siegel Cooper Co. stock in the eleven important departments above mentioned. THIS Accounts for the SALE! THIS Accounts for the BIG CROWDS OF EAGER BUYERS!

THIS Accounts for, and Amply Justifies, the Phrase at the Top of This Advertisement: "BIG MONEY-SAVING!"
